

Dear Parents,

Please see the attached letter from Mrs. Mona Faulkner, Superintendent of Catholic Schools in the Diocese of Fresno.

Mrs. Faulkner shares some of the requirements needed for our schools to open in August.

The first requirement is the adjustment of the school calendar. Because winter break will begin on November 25th and we will not return until January 11th, OLM School will start on Wednesday, August 5. The last day of school will be on June 11. We are hoping that with this information, you can plan accordingly for childcare during the break. I will be sending out an updated calendar next week.

Our Lady of Mercy School will also offer an on-line program for those students who may not be able to attend school in person. We are working on a virtual platform that will make this possible.

There will be more information to follow in the next few weeks. It's important to keep checking the OLM website for current information about the opening of OLM School.

Finally, I ask you to continue to keep all the Fresno Catholic Schools and administrators in your prayers. We are doing the best that we can do to get students back to school in a safe, loving, nurturing and faith-filled environment.

We must work together and remember this is only temporary!

Keep the faith!

God Bless You!

Mrs. Judy Blackburn
